

Vaginal Blood Discharge Stopped by NANO SOMA

by Garry Anderson, 8 September 2023

INTRODUCTION

This report provides the preliminary results of the use of NANO SOMA to stop vaginal bleeding in post-menopausal women, which occurred after intentional “shedding” contamination of the world of females. The contamination was done in order to prevent conception and reduce births and thus reduce world population.

HYPOTHESIS

After the world-wide dispersement of the so-called “Covid-19 Vaxx”, there have been numerous reports of many post-menopausal women who started vaginal bleeding again. This appears to be an intentional effect of the Vaxx, to discard the lining of the uterus to prevent conception and thus reduce births and world population. Since NANO SOMA worked to clean up blood contamination (see Reports from Garry Anderson dated 8 September 2023), it was hypothesized that NANO SOMA will have some benefit for those similarly-affected post-menopausal women.

OBSERVATIONS

Garry has a family member, a 60 year old Niece who is an non-Vaxxed virgin, who went into menopause more than 5 years ago. Over the last year, she has been working in close proximity to hundreds of Vaxxed people daily, and suddenly started bleeding again for no apparent reason. Coming out in the discharged blood were many abnormal blood clots, a situation that has been reported by other women around the world who have been contaminated by the “shedding” from the Vaxxed people.

Since the doctors are in denial that the Vaxx could possibly cause a problem, it is left to other people to find a cure. Thus Garry’s Niece commenced an experiment by using 5 sprays of NANO SOMA once a day but noticed no significant changes. After a week, the dose was increased to 5 sprays 3 times a day and there was a noticeable reduction of discharge. After another week, the dose was increased to 5 sprays 5 times a day and the bleeding stopped. The Nece will continue with 5 times per day for another 2 bottles to confirm that her bleeding does not start again.

There are no Live Blood Analysis images taken from the Niece, so this is essentially a “blind” experiment without empirical evidence, only anecdotal. However, since the medical profession is unwilling to accept the reality of this post-menopausal bleeding, the anecdotal evidence is better than following the advice of the so-called MDs who are unwilling or unable to admit the obvious causality between the Vaxx and the bleeding.

Vaginal Blood Discharge Stopped by NANO SOMA

CONCLUSIONS

From Garry's Niece's personal experiment, it is confirmed that NANO SOMA has stopped the post-menopausal bleeding caused by Vaxx contamination.

Again, Garry requests that other people around the world conduct their own NANO SOMA experiment to see if they can reproduce these results. If you are a post-menopausal woman who has started bleeding again, please start taking 5 sprays of NANO SOMA 5 times per day for one bottle to see if there are similar improvements. Stop the NANO SOMA for a month to confirm that the bleeding starts again, then revert to 5 times a day with NANO SOMA treatment on a continuous basis to stop the bleeding.

If you want some NANO SOMA for your experiment, then order your NanoSoma Liquid Here, so Garry gets the credit for this discovery.